The Trust Board is the legal governing body of all schools and settings within the Trust and remains accountable in law to OFSTED and the Education Skills Funding Agency for the exercise of its functions. Trustees, who are appointed on a voluntary basis, are drawn from the public and private sector, and bring significant educational and other professional expertise. Consortium Trust procures services and goods from third party providers predominantly based within the UK.

In line with our values, the Trust is committed to ensuring there is no modern slavery or human trafficking within any part of its business or supply chain.

Our policies to resist modern slavery and human trafficking. We have reviewed our existing policies and procedures in light of the Act. We are confident that our policies promote good behaviour among our colleagues at work and within our Trust. Our policies and procedures are kept under review to make sure that they reflect the changing needs of the Trust and of the staff, students/pupils and the communities it serves.

Among the policies that we consider give us strength in avoiding modern slavery or human trafficking under the Act in the Trust are:

- Equality Statement;
- Pay Policy
- Procurement Policy
- Recruitment & Selection Policy;
- Safer Recruitment Policy and Procedures
- Staff Code of Conduct
- Whistleblowing Policy

The Trust employs people solely within England. Our recruitment processes are set out in our Recruitment & Selection Policy and ensure that all prospective employees are legally entitled to work in the UK. A copy of the policy is on our website here.

Each school and early years setting has an annual safeguarding audit.

The Trust's Financial Regulations include reference to the Modern Slavery Act in relation to procurement. We are determined that there shall be no modern slavery or human trafficking in Consortium Trust. Our policies evidence our commitment to act ethically and with integrity throughout our organisation. All tenders for supply of services and or goods include a requirement for the supplier to report on their ethical trading including ensuring they also comply with the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

The suppliers the Trust use have their own statements, provided via links below.

Focus in our schools on slavery & human trafficking

All our schools and settings work towards raising awareness of slavery & human trafficking through:

- Educating colleagues, pupils & students, and parents / carers
- Child protection / family support work, where human trafficking has been highlighted as a risk in a school.
- Training and continuing vigilance
- We have discussed the Act, its purpose and the Trust's attitude to it at a Trust Board meeting and will continue to do this at least annually.
- We have alerted the Executive Leadership Team to it and challenged them to continue to consider where the risk of modern slavery or human trafficking may arise in the Trust.

- We have provided guidance to our procurement team members on the need to avoid those risks and on possible indicators of them during procurement.
- We will continue to enhance the assurances we seek from suppliers as to their avoidance of modern slavery and human trafficking.

Planned activities

Over the next 12 months we will build on the work already done to further develop our anti modern slavery policies and procedures.

Planned activities include:

- Continuously updating our procurement and key policies across the Trust.
- Ensuring that modern slavery is addressed throughout the procurement process by implementing new due diligence and risk checks that evaluate potential suppliers in relation to modern slavery and identify improvements before they enter the supply chain.
- Providing specific Modern Slavery Act training to key individuals and teams across the Trust who are responsible for managing contractual relationships.
